Colonel White:

This report poses a problem which I suggest could be considered by a Deputies' Meeting. The substance of this report has been made known to the Deputies through their Training Officers. However, this specific report has not been coordinated with the Deputies. Despite the language training needs there has not been any appreciable increase in student enrollment in language courses. Considering the statistics in this report, please note that the estimates call for three people with language capabilities to fill one designated position. Training has endeavored to have the Directorate focus on this issue but there has not been a satisfactory response sufficient to resolve this problem.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Meeting with Executive Director-Comptroller on 27 February 1969

STAT

2. Colonel White commented on a report he had had from the Chairman, Language Development Committee which reflected unfavorable progress--the Agency is not doing as well as had been thought. Colonel White will distribute copies of the report to the Deputies for study and urged, among other things, the establishment of a program within the Directorates by which the Deputies could themselves monitor progress.

3. Colonel White commented on a report from the Director of Personnel regarding the entrance on duty picture for this Fiscal Year. At the present rate there will be a short fall of 80 to 90 professionals and about 200 clericals, which, taken together with the present understrength, would place the Agency at 375 under ceiling at the end of June. The Director of Personnel pointed out that the critical problem is the cases in process, and it is now too late to do anything about EOD's for this year in the professional category. It was urged, however, that action be taken to ensure that early after the beginning of the next Fiscal Year cleared candidates would be available. It was noted that an additional campaign was being undertaken to improve the clerical picture.

4. Colonel White commented on the Inspector General's report of "Job Related Factors." After some discussion, it was agreed that Mr. Stewart would undertake a follow-up study, sampling professionals who had been on duty for five years and for ten years approximately--taking two-year samples from each group. The format is to be essentially the same as the one reported.

5. The principal issue for the meeting, Agency-academic relations, was then taken up and considerable discussion was generated. The first and principal item was the suggestion that the Agency establish some sort of an external entity, such as Rand or IDA, through which it could accomplish its outside research either directly through the entity or through the entity with a university. It was agreed that there were serious problems concerning any long-term credibility--particularly if such an entity were solely an Agency device--and that it would be preferable to use an existing organization. Mr. [] offered to have [] prepare an outline for further study on this matter. The discussion then turned to the suggestions on pages 5 and 6 of the paper under review. Colonel White agreed to query Lyman Kirkpatrick and Tracy Barnes regarding the proposal that lectures or chairs in intelligence be established at Yale. Mr. [] suggested this be part of the review which would be initiated in the outline prepared by []. Regarding sabbaticals for qualified scholars, Mr. [] commented that there are not many qualified scholars who would be interested, but it was agreed that it would be a good idea if they could be found. Suggestion 4 on page 6 having to do with doctoral candidates working with the Agency was discussed. It was felt that it would be difficult to restrict the material they would have access to; so this suggestion was passed. It was felt that there were two problems with suggestion 5 concerning post-doctoral fellowships. The first was how would we raise the money, and the second was that the climate today was not favorable. In discussing the possibility of sharing material with the academic community, Mr. [] reviewed much of what is already being done and suggested we set up a Brookings-type program. He went on to review the summer intern program, academic seminars and similar activities. He believes there is good activity in sharing open material with the academic community, but urged that we not over-organize our efforts in this regard.

6. Brief mention was made of the film now in the writing stage. It would appear that its effectiveness will have to be demonstrated.

7. Colonel White commented that Mr. [] had accepted an invitation to lunch on Friday the 28th, which is complicated by the fact that the Brookings group will also be here. Mr. [] agreed to chair the Brookings activity.

8. The next meeting will be on 27 March.
